Drouth Measures Reported By Byrd

10 Per Cent of Drouth Damage Estimated To Be In Virginia

Out of one thousand counties designated as suffering from the drouth, at the meeting of the State Drouth Relief Chairmen held in Washington, Nov. 20, 100 were the counties of Virginia, Harry F. Byrd, drouth relief chairman of Virginia writes in a letter to the county committee. The body of his letter is published below.

"On this basis, it was estimated that 10% of the drought damage occurred in Virginia. The states of Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Arkansas apparently suffered the most. After each state had made its report, a committee of five was appointed to make recommendations as to relief measures, and to report to the general meeting.

"I was appointed by Secretary Hyde as a member of this committee. The committee made the following important recommendations, and upon submission to the general committee all were unanimously approved. Secretary Hyde stated that the recommendations as made would also have the strong support of the administration:

The text of Resolution one is as follows:

"In view of the serious agricultural situation existing throughout the drought-stricken areas of the United States. Be It Resolved:

"That the National Drought Conference urge the Congress of the United States to enact such appropriate legislation as will authorize loans to farmers in the drought areas, for crop production in 1931, for seed of suitable crops, fertilizers, feed for livestock, and or fuel and oil for tractors, and for such other purposes of crop production as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture; that funds be appropriated by Congress in such amount as may be required for such loans; and that the Conference urge the Congress to pass the necessary legislation at the earliest possible date."

"In the discussion incident to the adoption of this recommendation, it was emphasized that a fund of approximately $60,000,000 would be required and that loans would be made to deserving farmers, without unnecessary restrictions or red-tape, such loans to be for all purposes of crop production, such as feed, fertilizer, seed, spray materials, gasoline and oil for tractors, etc.

Aid In Disasters

"In the discussion it developed that the federal government has time and time again come to the relief of those injured by national disasters. Congressman Walton Moore was kind enough to furnish me with a transcript of ninety such acts passed by Congress, the first having been passed on May 8, 1812, when $50,000 was appropriated for provisions to be sent to the government of Venezuela for earthquake sufferers. More recent appropriations for such purposes include an appropriation of August 3, 1916, for the relief of flood sufferers in southern states.

"Another appropriation on February 25, 1919, of $100,000,000 was made for foodstuffs to the populations of Europe. Another appropriation of $20,000,000 on December 22, 1921, from funds of the United States Grain Corporation, for the purchase and distribution of corn, seed, grain, and preserved milk for the people of Russia. Another appropriation of $5,000,000 on May 1, 1928, for compensating farmers for losses due to the enforcement of non-cotton zones, primarily in Texas. Another appropriation of $9,000,000 for loans to coffee planters in Porto Rico, and for the rebuilding of schools in Porto Rico as of January 22, 1930. The last appropriation of this character was February 7, 1930, an appropriation of $687,500 for the

Noise Ordinance Passed At Meeting Of Town Council

An ordinance prohibiting the blowing of a train whistle within 200 yeards of either crossing in town or between the crossings, was adopted by the Town Council at its regular month's meeting held last Monday night in P. W. Coleman's Office.

The ordinance followed negotiations with the Norfolk and Western Railway in an effort to abate the disturbance which is made by trains passing through town. The ordinance was drawn up by an attorney of the railway company at the suggestion of J. W. Flood. Violations of the ordinance will be penalized with fines of between one and ten dollars.

A building permit was issued to James T. Cawthorn to put a metal roof on his cottage near the old water tank and also to build a cottage and garage, which will have metal roofs.

It was voted to order the city licenses for this year from the state penitentiary, since these licenses fit the new state licenses and will cause no owners no trouble. Mr. Coleman was asked to order white on a green background for these colors can be obtained.

The council decided to employ Frank C. Dresser to audit the books of the town treasurer before the first of the year. Mr. Coleman reported some taxes still unpaid and he was told to proceed with levies on the property of those who have not paid.

The practicability of erecting a lighted Appomattox sign on the water tank was discussed, but no decision was reached. Councilmen Moses, Johnson, Cawthorn, Wheeler, McDearmon, Mayor Brown, J. W. Flood and P. W. Coleman, town manager, were present at the meeting.

Road Funds Small Aid Horsley Says

Speaks On Farmer's Problems At State Grange Meet In Roanoke

Unless road funds are extravagantly spent, with prefer ence given to inexperienced unemployed labor, road projects will do little to aid the drought stricken farmer, declared J. R. Horsley, speaking before the third annual session of the Virginia State grange Tuesday afternoon.

"Ask any intelligent practical farmer," the speaker challenged his hearers, "how much of this road construction money will directly or even indirectly percolate into the pockets of the drought stricken farmers. In my humble opinion, it will be doubtful as a means of relieving unemployment for few worth-while farmers can ever afford to quit their farms for any length of time to engage in highway construction."

Mr. Horsley urged that rather the solution to the problem lies with the farmers themselves. He added that numerous theoritic plans have been suggested, but asserted that the success of any plan will be in its adaptation to the needs of agricultural through a practical knowledge of actual conditions. He declared that only a farmer can really know these problem s.

"There is, the speaker argued," something radically wrong with our financial system when banks are stocked with money which reports indicate they are willing to lend at the low rate of one-fourth of one per cent per year on approved securities, and landowners are facing bankruptcy for the lack of credit and even for the medium of exchanges in areas where their credit is good, owing to the timidity of capital."

Mr. Horsley proposed organization of farmers as being the first, essential step toward a solution of their problems. He pointed to the Grange as being an organization which supplies that need, and urged members to bear that fact in mind in exceeding the order.

"I do not believe he said in illusion," "that the equality sought for agriculture will ever be obtained until the farmers of the United States are emersed in one great nationwide organization such as the grange. I honestly believe that the hope of agriculture and the American farmer will ultimately rest with the Grange."

Following Mr. Horsley's address the assemblage passed a resolution urging Virginia senators and representatives to support the drouth relief bill, which is to be introduced into both houses when they convene.

The meeting adjourned yesterday afternoon after a two-

Proposed Redistricting Plan Would Eliminate Tenth District

PARCELS OUT COUNTIES, GIVING APPOMATTOX TO FOURTH

OPPOSED HERE

Horsley Believes Re-Mapping Of Entire State Will Be Necessary

Appomattox County would be placed in the fourth district and the present tenth district would be eliminated if the political map of the state were to be marked off according to a plan recently published in a special Richmond dispatch to the Baltimore Sun on the effect of re-districting Virginia for representation in Congress.

This plan takes for granted that the tenth district is to be distributed among the other nine in order to leave the correct number of congressional districts providing congress cuts down the representation.

Sentiment in this part of the tenth is strongly against the division of the district, and especially of that part of the district east of the mountains which includes the counties of Amherst, Nelson, Buckingham, Cumberland, Fluvana, and Appomattox. The plan published in the Sun would give Appomattox, Cumberland, and Buckingham to the fourth district, and Nelson to the eighth.

Hope that this district may be kept intact is held by many in this county, who propose as a solution that the seventh and 8 be combined taking the lower counties from the eighth and adding them to the third district. The eighth district was the last to be formed. The tenth was originally the sixth district.

J. R. Horsley commenting upon the possible changes to be made in redistricting stated that he did not believe it would be possible to absorb any one district among the nine. Redistricting in Mr. Horsley's opinion will mean a re-mapping of the entire state and not mere ly a rearrangement.

That a new district including Appomattox will be cut out is his conjecture. This new district would be homogenously logical, and the counties in the present tenth district east of the mountains would not be dismembered, but those west would be divided into two districts, according to his idea.

Senator S. L. Ferguson, when approached on the subject of the re-districting, declined to comment, saying nothing is certain in the question at present, although he stated that he wants the tenth district left as it is. Senator Ferguson is a member of the State committee on re-districting.

J. W. Flood, commonwealth attorney, also declined to express any opinion. A. H. Clement stated he does not believe that congress will cut the state representations.

The plan which would throw Appomattox County into the fourth district, would give the counties in the tenth district west of the mountains to the seventh district. Concerning this plan, H. H. Byrd, Commonwealths attorney of Bath County, said in the Bath County Enterprise of last week, "If the announced plan for reapportioning Virginia's representation in Congress is adopted, the result will probably be to strengthen the position of Representative H. St. George Tucker and precipitate a hot fight between Howard Smith, Representative from the Eigth District, and J. W. Fishbourne, newly elected Representative form the Seventh.

"If the plan goes through," said Mr. Byrd," we would be in a new Seventh District including Bath, Highland, Augusta, Rockbridge, and Craig but the present tenth district

"In addition the counties of Clark, Frederick, Warrenton, Shenandoah, Page, Rockingham and city of Winchester would be added to the district, that is all the counties east of the Blue Ridge now in the Seventh District.

Advantage With Tucker

Petty's Fork and Hixburg Vote 1931 Farm Demonstration

Community meetings at which the major farm demonstrations for 1931 were adopted were held last Tuesday at Hixburg and Petty's Fork with R. B. Hudgins, county agent, and J. G. Bruce, district agent, present.

Demonstrations adopted at Hixburg were clover, and pasture omprovement. The committee in this community visited Will Hix blue grass pasture and found the grass from 7 to 8 inches high. This land can be used for grazing until Christmas.

This demonstration has shown the blue grass will withstand the drouth better in this county than in the limestone sections.

Demonstrations adopted at Petty's Fork were Clover, poultry, and pasture improvement.

R. B. Hudgins, county agent, announces for the convenience of the farmers, that he will be in his office from now on, each day Saturday, Monday morning until 12 o'clock, and every other morning from 8:30 o'clock until 10 o'clock, unless he receives an emergency call, which takes him away from the office. Mr. Hudgins requests that farmers do not call him during these hours except in case of an emergency.

Smiles

A smile is quite a funny thing;
It wrinkles up your face,
And when its' gone you never find
Its' secret hiding place.

But far more wonderful it is
To see what smiles can do;
You smile at one, he smiles at you,
And so one smile makes two.

He smiles at some one, since you smiled,
And then that one smiles back,
And that one smiles until in truth,
You fail in keeping track.

And since a smile can do great good
By cheering hearts of care,
Let's smile and smile, and not forget
That smiles go everywhere

Joke for the Week

A man traveling in Maine met a middle aged farmer. He said his father, 90 years old, was still on the farm where he was born.

"Ninety years old, eh?"

"Yes, Pop's close to 90."

"Is his health good?"

"Taint much now, he's been complaining for a few months back."

"What's the matter with him?"

I dunno, sometimes I think farming don't agree with him.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

Times Virginian—

Dear:-

Please allow me space to endorse the movement being launched to organize the tobacco growers of the Dark Fired Belt. The best agricultural thought of the country is backing the movement. Our Agricultural Colleges and Agricultural Press stands squarely behind the great question of "Co-operative Marketing". Thses great agencies, possessing masterful minds are ready and anxious for collective bargaining and selling. Whynot take advantage of their tremendous influences, and put it over?

P. W. Coleman.

To the People of Appomattox

We are having calls for food from 6 to ten men daily, who are tramping the country in search of work.

So far we have been fortunate enough to feed them and help them on their way.

While we are glad to be able to do this, however, it is an ever-growing strain on us and we sincerely trust that the people of Appomattox will, in the near future, make some promise to help us take care of the many who are walking the roads in search of work.

We believe the good citizens of our town could raise a fund by turning some over to the town mayor, give relief to these jobless men without having the whole burden fall on one, although we are glad to do our best, as we have done in the past seven years.
